God's Goodness

The history of our faith goes back to Abraham and his descendants, the people of Israel. At the time when much of the Old Testament was written, belief in many gods was common. The Israelites came to know that there was only one God and that this God (Yahweh) was all good. Out of this goodness, God created the earth and all creatures. We are loved because we have been created in the image and likeness of God.

Scripture Background

Before the Time of Jesus

Genesis The Hebrew name for the book of Genesis is bereshith which means “in the beginning.” With these opening words, the story of creation unfolds. In later chapters, we meet Abraham and Noah and other people who play an important role in the history of the Israelites. Genesis concludes with a story about Joseph and his brothers. Tradition teaches us that Moses wrote Genesis. Scholars however believe the stories are based on the oral traditions of tribal peoples.

Read the two stories of creation in Genesis 1:1–31, 2:1–4; 2:5–23

OUR CATHOLIC TRADITION in Architecture

Antoni Gaudí Antoni Gaudí (1852–1926) was one of the great modernist architects of the twentieth century. Born in Catalonia, Spain, Gaudí was a devout Roman Catholic whose work was inspired by his deep faith in God and love of nature. Gaudí once said that his task as an architect was one of “collaboration with the Creator.” His innovative and imaginative designs blended elements of the Neo-Gothic, art nouveau, and surrealist schools of art. His most celebrated work is the unfinished church La Sagrada Família (“The Holy Family”) in Barcelona.
